My Favorite Things

It's difficult to decide where to direct your gaze first upon walking into any of Sophie Ashby's richly layered spaces, be it a Mayfair pied-à-terre or her own Georgian-era East End residence. Bringing together antique accents with contemporary discoveries, the interior designer and Frieze 91 committee member has quickly established herself as one of London's ones to watch since opening her eponymous studio at the age of 25. Here, Ashby shares her favorite finds for the home and beyond

Henry Holland

$105

Studio Earthenware Serving Platter

"I'm rather obsessed with Henry Holland and his marble signature. We have one of his ceramic lamps with the same pattern at Blewcoat, our Studio Ashby home in London. It makes me smile everyday."

Assouline

$247.50

Jean-Michel Frank

"This is the most incredible coffee table book and is at the very top of my wishlist. I could peruse Jean-Michel Frank's interiors all day long."
